Update from Lisa

2017 was a pretty good tomato year. An early mild spring, and while there was somewhat early rain it only knocked out the dainty tomatoes like purple cherokee <sigh>

The most interesting tomato of 2017 was Momotaro, a very sweet Japanese hybrid. I tested 11 different paste tomatoes, but nothing was particularly outstanding. All paste tomatoes made equally delicious roasted sauce!

We are going to be reducing our plant starts this year; family issues are ongoing and may demand some attention that formerly all went to tomatoes.

PEPPERS

King of the North – Large, fat, beautiful green-to-red bell pepper. Cold tolerant and reliable.

New Ace HYBRID – Green-to-red bell pepper, not as fat and thick-walled as King of the North, but the most cold tolerant and reliable bell ever.

Orange Sun – Green-to-orange bell pepper, ripen reasonably early, sweet, thick-walled, and especially delicious.

Numex Big Jim – large, long green anaheim type chile.

Jalapeno Gigantia HYBRID – large, hot, productive jalapeño.

Long Narrow Cayenne – Long thin hot peppers.

EGGPLANT

Millionaire HYBRID – Extra-early, productive Japanese type eggplant, 8" slender purple fruits.

Galine HYBRID – Purple Italian type eggplant that does very well here, my favorite eggplant.

Nadia HYBRID – Dark purple Italian eggplant, slightly larger & slightly later than Galine.

BASIL

Genovese Basil – The standard for pesto.

Siam Queen – Thai basil; also very ornamental.

Sweet Dani Lemon – Lemon-scented basil

RED & PINK

NEW! Momotaro – Large, beautifully round, pink tomatoes with a very sweet and distinctive flavor.

Brandywine, Suddoth's Strain
Excellent flavor, vigorous plants with good yields of large pink fruits. Suddoth's strain of Brandywine is supposed to be the most delicious of them all.

Italian Heirloom – A large red heart-shaped tomato, productive, excellent flavor; fairly dense flesh. Won many taste tests here, and an impressive producer.

Legend – Smooth medium-large red round tomatoes. Sets fruit at cooler temperatures and tolerant to late blight. Semi-determinate.

Super Fantastic – HYBRID. Impressive yields of very large, beautiful round red slicers with decent flavor. Reliable producer.

Gill's All Purpose – Medium size red tomato, early and with particularly good flavor. Oregon heirloom variety. Determinate, medium size plant.

Pink Berkeley Tie Dye – Deep maroon red with green streaks, excellent flavor; one of the best of the Wild Boar varieties

EARLY VARIETIES

Scotia – Medium size tomatoes, early and prolific with quite good flavor. Small, determinate plant.

Stupice – Extra-early, cold-tolerant tomato. 2-4 oz salad size, very sweet, delicious red fruit, indeterminate full-size plant. One of the first to harvest and last in fall.

PURPLE & BLACK

Purple Cherokee – Medium-large, dark colored, the best tasting tomato; famous heirloom variety. Usually less productive and may be disease susceptible... but worth it.

Black Krim – Large maroon-black tomato, with rich, sweet intense flavor that rivals Purple Cherokee. I keep having to grow both.

Lucid Gem – Another irresistible wildly colored Wild Boar variety.

YELLOW & ORANGE

Gold Medal – Very large, yellow blushed with red; juicy; mild, sweet flavor, gets rave reviews at tastings. Fairly early and productive.

Jaune Flamme – salad-size bright orange tomatoes, early and with very good flavor; reliable. Lyrically described in "Animal, Vegetable, Miracle"

Tangerine – Large orange slicer, somewhat late, but produced a lot even in the horrible wet September of 2013.

GREEN & GREEN-MULTI

Ananas Noire – Uniquely beautiful. Very large tomatoes are green, purple, red, orange and yellow and have great flavor.

Aunt Ruby's German Green – Large green beefsteak, with delicious flavor, a good producer and rain tolerant.

Green Zebra – Salad-size, green, with a particularly unique and delicious unique tomatoey flavor.

CHERRY TOMATOES

Sungold HYBRID – Always wins the taste tests; small orange cherry tomatoes that are just the best. The one variety I would take to that desert island.

NEW! Suncherry Extra Sweet – a sister to sungold, small red cherry.

Peacevine cherry – Small bright red cherry in tresses. Very productive and exceptionally good flavor.

Green Doctors Frosted Cherry
Olive-shaped green cherry with silver frost, sweet and delicious; a surprise from something that looks more like an olive than a tomato.

Indigo Blueberries – In the Indigo-Rose family; very dark purple-black over red; a smaller cherry type than Indigo Rose.

Chocolate Cherry – A purple-brown cherry, which (to my surprise) was one of the winners in several 2015 taste tests.

PASTE & PLUM

Mr. Fumarole – Medium-large, productive pink paste tomato that got rave reviews at tastings and from customers. Tends to crack in wet weather. Indeterminate.

NEW! Martinos Roma – determinate paste, said to have fewer bloom end root issues as well as flavor and productivity.

Romeo – Huge paste tomato, over a pound, somewhat late. Very few seeds. Rare.

Pasta – HYBRID; Indeterminate; productive and tasty.

Grandma Mary's – Indeterminate; large paste with good flavor and production.
